

SYMBOLS

In the land of the goalpost, the silo, the steeple
Symbols established by extraordinary people
Where football and farming and faith reign supreme
Where living each day is little short of a dream

The goalposts sing out of gridiron glory
The success of our Flyers; a phenomenal story
And yet football is just the most public of feats
Accomplished by kids who don't welcome defeats

The silos erupt from corn fields so tall
On land so productive it's the envy of all
Growing flocks and herds and acres of hay
Generations of families have made it this way

A magnificent steeple rises every mile or so
Great displays of our faith keeping hearts all aglow
With love for our families, our neighbors, our God -
And diligent students who make us all proud

Would be great if all could live with such marvelous peoples
In a land of goalposts and silos and steeples
It's not for everyone this quaint, rural space
But for us who live here, it's a most wondrous place.
