PREFACE

This volume is a compilation of marriages recorded in Marriage Record Books 1 & 2 (combined), 3, 4 and 5 located in the Probate Court Office, Shelby County Court House, Sidney, Ohio. Marriages are listed alphabetically by grooms' names; an index of brides' names has been added.

Although Shelby County was established in 1819, the earliest known official marriage records start with the year 1824. Information regarding marriage licenses issued during the 1819 - 1824 period was published in the August 10, 1883 issue of THE SHELBY COUNTY DEMOCRAT, a weekly newspaper. These licenses are included herein; however, dates on which the marriages were performed are not available.

The date on which a marriage was performed may not have been reported back to the court; in these instances we give the date the license was issued. Comments referring to consents, verifications of age, prior marriages, etc., are shown immediately following the entry to which they apply. Written consents mentioned in the record books are no longer extant.

Although great care has been taken to transcribe these records accurately, the usual problems of fading ink, poor penmanship and misspellings of names inevitably result in some errors of interpretation. Variant spellings are frequently found within an entry; these variations are included when they are significant. The compilers recommend that readers look for all possible spellings of a surname.

A certified copy or photocopy of an original marriage record may be obtained from the Clerk of the Probate Court for a fee in effect at the time of request.

MINISTERS AND JUSTICES OF THE PEACE

Who performed marriages recorded in this volume.

Ministers of the Gospel who performed marriages are identified as to denomination where such information is available. Justices of the Peace are identified by township where this information could be determined.

The Probate Court's earliest known register of ministers licensed to perform marriages in Shelby County begins in 1852. Ministers' names found in this register are indicated by an asterisk (*).
